Reading comprehension

Read the following passage , then answer the questions :-

Sea turtles are reptiles that live in the ocean. They are ancient animal that have been around for over 100 million years even before the dinosaurs. Today, sea turtles are endangered species too. If we don't protect them, they will soon be gone forever.

Sea turtles are endangered for many reasons. Some people eat them or their eggs even though it is not allowed. Other people damage sea turtles' nests. This makes it harder for sea turtles to lay eggs. When people throw rubbish like plastic bags, the sea turtles may get stuck inside it and some others might it. Some factories also throw some chemicals in the sea which also damages the turtles' habitat.

Many people and especially scientists work hard to protect the sea turtles so they do not die. What can you do to help? When you go to the beach, make sure not to leave any trash behind. If you see a turtle nest in the sand, do not touch it or move the eggs. Avoid beach campfires during the time the turtles are preparing their nests to lay eggs. Turn off the lights on the beach; turtles use the moon to reach the beach and by turning off the beach lights it will be easier for them to find their way.

A) Choose the correct answer from a,b,c and d :-

- c- huge
- d- smart

12--The underlined word " them " in the 3rd paragraph refers to:

- a- lights
- b- turtles
- c- campfires
- d- eggs

13- Sometimes it's not easy for turtles to lay eggs because

- a- they eat plastic bags.
- b- there are chemicals in the sea
- c- they have been around for 100 million years.
- d- their nests are damaged by people

14-According to the text all the following statements are true EXCEPT:

- a- Turtles are older than dinosaurs.
- b- Turtles may get stuck in plastic bags.
- c- Scientists are not doing anything to protect the sea turtles.
- d- Sea turtles eggs are sometimes eaten by some people.

15-The main purpose of the writer is:

- a-To talk about plastic in the ocean.
- b-To tell us how to save the sea turtles.

Reading comprehension

Read the following passage , and then answer the questions bellow:

Plants and animals need to survive in our wild world. How do they do it? There are many ways for plants and animals to do this. The body or skin of some animals is similar in colour to the land around them. Some animals can really change colours to match the place around them. Rabbits are a great example of this. Some rabbits' fur will change colours in different seasons. They are brown in spring, summer, and autumn to match the trees. They become white in winter when there is snow. This way makes rabbits are safer from wild animals.

Plants survive in deserts and forests. Desert plants store, and save water for a long time. Some plants have roots that get water very quickly. The water is saved in the centre of the plant. Other plants make chemicals that prevent insects and animals from eating them. Some plants make poisons that can kill a person.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

An endangered animal, the giant panda can only be found in the mountain bamboo forests of Western China. There are only about 1000 giant pandas left in the world. Giant pandas are members of the bear family but they are not dangerous. Even though giant pandas look just like bears, they certainly do not behave like bears.

Pandas are vegetarians for the most part of their time. Their favourite food is bamboo. Giant pandas must eat a lot of bamboo everyday to live healthily. In fact, they spend at least 12 hours every day eating about 33 pounds of bamboo. However, if they are extremely hungry and there are no bamboo trees found they may eat grass, fruits or small animals like chicken.

Giant pandas do not live in groups. Each panda lives alone. They only leave their places from March to May to make a family. Female giant pandas usually give birth to twins. Baby giant pandas are very small, blind, pinkish and weigh about 5 kilograms when they are born. Mother giant pandas feed their babies with milk. A baby giant panda opens its eyes at six to seven weeks.

B. Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

The bell rang. Our teacher had just finished explaining the lesson to the class. Before he could say another word, some of the students stood up. They were ready to head to the canteen quickly. Our teacher told them, "There isn't any need to run. Stay calm. There's much food and time for you to have during your break."

However, once he got out of class, the boys started running and pushing each other down the stairs. There was a lot of pushing, and laughing. Suddenly, there was a loud scream. One of the boys in front missed a step and fell off the stairs. He landed hard on the ground.

The boy had a broken arm and was crying out of pain. His friends quickly helped him up. The teacher called for an ambulance using his phone. While waiting for it, the other boys in the group were talking about the accident. They knew why their teacher asked them not to run on the stairs. Then the teacher said, "Let this be a lesson to you." The injured boy was then taken to the hospital. After one week, he returned back to school with a plaster on his arm. We all felt sorry for him.

B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the following questions:

16

Once upon a time, there was a young farmer named Jack. He was not active and didn't take good care of his farm. One day, an old man gave him a special golden tool. The old man said, "This tool can unlock a treasure, but remember, real treasure comes from hard work and being keen on doing your best."

Jack went searching for the treasure. He made big holes in the farm and looked everywhere for weeks, but he couldn't find it. Feeling tired and sad, he went back home.

Jack realised his mistake. He understood that the old man meant something important. Instead of searching for treasures, he decided to take better care of his farm. He worked hard and looked after it every day.

As time passed, people noticed the change in Jack. They liked his keenness and hard work. They respected him for his efforts, not for having a treasure.

Jack learned that true happiness and success don't come from money or even from having gold. They come from working hard, being responsible, and doing your best. It's not about what you have, but how you work and how to make others respect you, that is the real treasure.
