Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Last weekend, Hamad went with his family to visit the Red Palace in Al Jahra. His grandfather told him that the palace was built to protect Kuwait a long time ago. Hamad walked around the big red walls and imagined the battles that happened there. Later, they went to Al Mubarakiya, where his mother bought some spices and clothes. His father showed him the old shops. There, Hamad and his father bought some fish and food. At night, Hamad read a story about Mutawa Halima, the teacher who taught children the Quran in her house. He felt proud of Kuwait's history and told his friend Ali about the trip at school the next day.

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Laura used to love eating sweets, oily and salty food. All her meals were unhealthy. For breakfast, Laura prefers to add chocolate milk instead of white milk on her cereals. It was full of sugar. She tried to make her meal healthier by drinking orange juice. It only made it extra sweet.

During the school break, she brings a small bag of chips and a chocolate bar every day. For drinks, she would have strawberry milk and another juice. Sometimes she would also buy an ice-cream.

One day, during the PE class, she had a stomach ache. She couldn't run around with her friends because she got tired and lazy. She didn't like the PE class because it was hard for her to run. Everyone was faster than her. The next day her mother took her to a hospital. The doctor told her that she needs to lose weight, exercise more and stop eating so much sugar and fat. Her mom started taking her for a walk everyday, she had to ride her bike for 30 minutes after school. Laura started feeling better and her breathing got better too.
