Free time

After school, Omar likes to use his free time in useful and enjoyable ways. On Monday, he plays football with his friends in the school field. He practises twice a week because he wants to improve his skills. On Tuesday, he takes photographs of plants and buildings near his home. Photography is his favourite hobby because it helps him notice small details. At the weekend, Omar sometimes reads adventure stories with his younger brother. His brother asks many questions about the characters and places in the stories. Omar also helps his family prepare a traditional meal on Friday. They talk, laugh, and share their ideas while they cook. Omar believes that free time is important because people need to relax, learn new things, and stay active. He does not spend all his free time online. Instead, he chooses different activities that support his health, creativity, and relationships with family and friends.

A Colorful Summer

Last summer, my family had a wonderful holiday. We visited an amusement park near our city. It was a big and colorful place with many exciting activities. When we arrived, we went to the ticket booth to buy our tickets.

First, my brother and I rode the roller coaster. It was fast and exciting! Then, we played bumper cars with our parents. After that, we walked around the park and stopped at a food stand. We bought sandwiches and cold drinks. For dessert, I had some cotton candy. It was pink, sweet, and fluffy.

During the summer, I also enjoyed my hobbies. In my free time, I did photography and took pictures of interesting places. I also did arts and crafts with my sister twice a week. My sister likes swimming, so we went swimming once a week. In the evenings, we often played board games with our family.

Our counselor says that hobbies are important because they help us relax and learn new skills. In the past, children had many traditional hobbies, such as drawing, collecting stamps, and making toys.

What makes an amusement park great? I think exciting rides, delicious food, friendly people, and fun activities make an amusement park great. Most importantly, it gives families happy memories together.
