Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

The changing of the seasons is a fascinating natural phenomenon. As the Earth goes around the Sun, different parts of the planet receive different amounts of sunlight throughout the year. This variation causes the seasons to change, each bringing its own unique weather patterns and features.

Spring is the season that follows winter. It is a time when the weather starts to warm up, and the days become longer. Trees and plants begin to grow, and flowers start to appear. Many animals, such as birds and butterflies, return from their winter journeys. Spring is often seen as a season of renewal and growth. It's a time when the world seems to come alive after the cold months of winter.

Summer comes after spring and is known for its warm temperatures and long, sunny days. People often go on vacations, have picnics, and spend time outdoors enjoying activities like swimming and hiking. Summer is a popular time for families to travel and explore new places. In many areas, summer also brings occasional thunderstorms and heavy rains, which help to keep the environment rich and green.

Autumn, or fall, follows summer and is characterized by cooler temperatures and shorter days. The leaves on trees change color. They turn into red, orange, and yellow before falling to the ground. Autumn is a time for preparing for the coming winter, as animals gather food and people start to use their warm clothing again.

Winter is the final season of the year. It is known for its cold temperatures, and in many places, it brings snow and ice, so people often spend more time indoors. Winter days are shorter. This season is a time for cozy fires and hot drinks. Although it can be chilly, winter also offers beautiful snowy landscapes and opportunities for winter sports like skiing and ice skating.

Each season brings its own special experiences and beauty. As the year progresses, people adapt to the changes in weather and take part in seasonal activities that they enjoy. The cycle of the seasons is a reminder of the changing world around us.

A- From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer:

1- The best title for this passage could be:
a- Autumn Days
b- Summer Adventures
c- The Wonderful Winter
d- The Changing Seasons

d- annoy

3- The underlined word "their" in the 2nd paragraph refers to:
a- flowers
b- trees
c- plants
d- animals

4- Spring is the time of the year when:
a- flowers start to appear.
b- temperatures start to rise.
c- days are shorter and colder.
d- trees and plants turn into red.

5- All of the following are activities people do in summer EXCEPT:
a- Families travel and explore new places.
b- People prepare for the coming winter.
c- People often go on vacations.
d- People enjoy swimming and hiking.

6.The purpose of the writer in writing this passage is to:
a- persuade readers to enjoy cozy fires and hot drinks.
b- describe the features and activities of each season.
c- explain the scientific reasons behind seasonal changes.
d- give information about swimming, skiing, and skating.

B. With reference to the passage, answer the following questions:
