Life in the City and the Country

People live in many places. Some people live in the city, and some live in the country.

In the city, there are many cars, buses, and tall buildings. The streets are busy and crowded. There are shops, schools, and parks. Many people work in offices and stores. The city is exciting, but sometimes it is noisy and dirty.

In the country, there are trees, farms, and animals. The air is clean, and it is quiet. People grow plants and take care of cows, sheep, and chickens. Life in the country is calm and peaceful.

Both the city and the country are good places to live. The city has many buildings, and the country has fresh air and nature.

We must help to keep them clean.

In the city, people can use trash bins, recycle, and walk or ride bikes.

In the country, people should not throw trash in rivers and must care for animals and farms.

When everyone helps, our world stays clean and beautiful.
