If you like fresh air and seeing new places, why not go on a cycling holiday? In this article, we will help you plan the perfect holiday on two wheels. Firstly, decide whether you want to travel alone or with someone else. If you go by yourself, you can do whatever you want. For example, you can change your plans more easily, but it can be more fun to travel with someone else. If you would rather share the experience, make sure you choose the right person. You will need to get along with them and, of course, they will have to enjoy cycling!

You will need to choose a place to go to. Then, you will need to think about your equipment, and the most important thing is the bike. If you have already got a bike, you can use it, but if you haven't, you can rent bicycles easily. You should also think carefully about the things you will need. If you take too many things, your bike will be too heavy. Only take enough clothes for a few days because they can be washed and worn again.

Lastly, don't go anywhere without travel insurance, which is a document that protects you if you have an accident. Travel insurance is also useful if somebody steals something from you. The insurance company pays you back for the things that are stolen. This document isn't usually expensive and you will be much more relaxed if you have got one.
