Mariam loves festivals. Every year, her family visits a big festival in the city. During the festival, people wear traditional clothes and decorate the streets. Mariam always feels excited when she sees the colorful lights. In the morning, Mariam and her family walk around the festival. During this time, people usually buy food and gifts. Sometimes, they watch shows and listen to music. Mariam likes the music because it is loud and fun.

At night, the festival becomes more exciting. During the evening, people always watch fireworks. The sky is bright and beautiful. Mariam and her brother sit together and enjoy the view.

Before going home, Mariam buys a small gift. She feels happy because she likes spending time with her family. She hopes they can visit the festival again next year.
