- Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

In the lively city of Riverton in the United States, there lived a shy boy named Alex. He was a passionate reader who loved reading adventure books. However, in real life, he felt unseen among his more popular classmates.

One day, the city announced a grand treasure hunt to celebrate its 150th anniversary. The prize was a mysterious old box said to be filled with ancient items from a long time ago. Excited by the idea of a real-life adventure, Alex decided to join the hunt.

The members were given a number of puzzles leading to different locations around the city. Alex's knowledge from his books helped as he solved the clues. He visited historic landmarks, solved puzzles, and discovered hidden roads. His confidence grew with each solved puzzle. As Alex reached the final clue, he noticed some of his classmates struggling to find their way. Despite their past unkindness, Alex decided to help them. Together, they solved the last puzzle and arrived at the final location, which was an old library.

Inside the library, they found the treasure box hidden behind a dusty bookshelf. His classmates, who were impressed by Alex's cleverness and kindness, apologised for their behaviour. They decided to share the prize, which contained old books, coins, and items that told the story of Riverton's past.

Alex's bravery and knowledge turned him from an unnoticed boy into a local hero. He learned that true adventures aren't just about the destination but also the journey and the friends made along the way.
