Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Children and adults are alike. They enjoy flying a kite on a windy day. However, kites are not always the bright and pretty toys we think of today. Kites started as tools for war. The Chinese flew kites around 3,000 years ago. They used them to get information and send messages.

Since then, kites have become more than just pieces of flying art. They have played significant roles in discoveries. Perhaps the best-known use of a kite was in a scientific experiment described by Benjamin Franklin in 1752. Franklin hoped to prove the connection between lightning and electricity. Another important use of kites was by the Wright brothers in the early 1900s. They used kites to test their ideas about flying, which helped them invent the world's first plane.

Even now, kites are still an essential part of religious and cultural celebrations, and they have become a part of festivals around the world. The planes that allow us to travel worldwide have all descended from the simple kite. They all have the same basic idea.

Read the following text carefully then answer the questions below:

Penguins are special birds. Though they have wings and feathers, they cannot fly. Penguins get around by sprinting on their large feet. These feet help make them good swimmers. Penguins also get around by sliding across snow and ice on their large tummies. Most penguins live in cold places. A thick layer of fat and their oily feathers help them stay warm. Not all penguins live in cold places, but some live on warm islands.

Penguins eat fish or shrimps. Most of them are black and white, but some types have other colours. They might have yellow or orange feathers on their heads and faces. Some have blue feathers. These fun birds come in all shapes and sizes. Some are short, less than 30 centimeters tall. Others can reach 122 centimeters tall. Smaller penguins can weigh one or two kilograms, while the large ones can weigh almost 45 kilograms.

Some penguins can live up to thirty years! Some live only five or six years. Like other birds, penguins lay eggs. The males keep the eggs warm until it is time for the eggs to hatch. Penguins travel in large groups called colonies. Inside the colony, the penguins live together as a family. This makes them very special birds.

B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Have you ever visited a lighthouse? Lighthouses can be symbols of many different things. For tourists, they can be interesting places to visit, and photograph. For people who love history, they are windows to the past. For sailors, they are signs of safety. Lighthouses are located along the coasts of oceans. They project a strong light that tells sailors that the land is near and warns them of dangers.

Lighthouses are built with a living part for the lighthouse keeper. He looks after the lighthouse and ensures that it is always working properly. Although it can be lonely at times, it is an important job. Lighthouse rays can be used differently to help sailors identify the lighthouse and their location. Each lighthouse has its own patterns, lengths and flashes that make it unique. Sailors can observe them and then look them up in a reference book that will tell them which lighthouse they have found.

During the day, sailors can identify lighthouses simply by their looks. Some lighthouses are painted in special colours. Others are known by their shapes. Many lighthouses are no longer working. They are sometimes converted into museums, educational centers, or even private homes.
