

SEN Revision Guide

Vocabulary list

Smile, kind, loud, sad, brave, quiet, afraid, shoes, gloves, pen, park, home, library, teacher, music, table, chair, book, gift

Grammar

Prepositions - in, on, behind, in front, below, above etc...

Present simple –have, do, eat, use, study, clean, tidy (verbs to do with doing things at home)

Writing

Practice writing about your favourite personal possession and spaces

Remember the following when writing:

- Capital letters
- Commas and full stops
- Use specific vocabulary linked to topic
- Answer the whole question (cover the three bullet points in the writing prompt in your answer)

An example of potential writing prompt could be 'write about your favourite items inside your bedroom'

Writing Activity: My Favorite Possession

Topic: Write about your favorite possession. It could be a toy, a book, a piece of clothing, or anything that is very special to you. Explain what it is, why you like it, and how you got it.

Writing Plan:

1. Introduction to Your Possession:
  - Start with a sentence that introduces your favorite possession (e.g., "My favorite possession is my teddy bear.").
2. Description of the Possession:
  - Describe what it looks like (color, size, material).
  - Explain where you keep it or use it.
3. Reasons It Is Special:
  - Explain why it is your favorite (sentimental value, utility, comfort).
  - Share a memory or a story related to it.
4. Conclusion:

- End with a sentence about how you feel when you have or use this possession (e.g., "I feel happy and safe when I hold my teddy bear.").

Model Answer:

My favorite possession is my teddy bear. It is small and brown, and very soft. I always keep it on my bed. I like my teddy bear because it was a gift from my grandmother. She gave it to me on my fifth birthday. When I hold my teddy bear, I remember that day and feel very happy. It is special because it makes me think of my grandmother who lives far away. I feel happy and safe when I hold my teddy bear. It is the best gift I have ever received.