Summary Making (1)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Many students find that preparing for an individual class for 60-90 minutes per day, five or six days per week, will leave them well prepared at exam time. For some students, it does not work. That is why practitioners would recommend that students should not cram at the last second. All-nighters simply don't work for most people, and students experience declining returns on their efforts when they attempt to study for four and five hours straight. They would also recommend that students should keep their ears open in class. Their teachers will sometimes tell them about the exam study strategies. They should be in class every day to receive such help. This is particularly true as tests and final exams approach. They insist that students review their class notes on a regular basis.

READING COMPREHENSION

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

How do you remember the way to your friend's house? Why do your eyes blink without you ever thinking about it? Your brain is in charge of these things. In fact, your brain is the boss of your body. It runs and controls just about everything you do, even when you're asleep. Not bad for something that looks like a big gray wrinkly sponge.

A brain has many different parts that work together, for example, the Cerebrum, Brain Stem, Pituitary Gland and Hypothalamus. The biggest part of the brain is the cerebrum. The cerebrum is the thinking part of the brain and it controls your voluntary muscles — the ones that move when you want them to. So you need your cerebrum to dance or kick a soccer ball. You need your cerebrum to solve math problems and draw a picture. Your memory lives in the cerebrum — both short-term memory and long-term memory. The cerebrum has two halves. Scientists think that the right half helps you think about abstract things like music, colours, and shapes. The left half is more analytical, helping you with math, logic, and speech.

Another important part of the brain is the cerebellum which is a lot smaller than the cerebrum. It controls balance, movement, and coordination, how your muscles work together. Because of your cerebellum, you can stand upright, keep your balance, and move around. Think about a surfer riding the waves on his board. He needs his cerebellum to stand and control his movement. The brain stem is in charge of all the functions that your body needs to stay alive, like breathing air, digesting food, and circulating blood. The pituitary gland is very small. Its job is to produce and release hormones into your body. The hypothalamus is like your brain's inner thermostat. The hypothalamus knows what temperature your body should be. If your body is too hot, the hypothalamus tells it to sweat. If you're too cold, the hypothalamus gets you shivering.

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

It was one of those terribly hot days in Baltimore. We always had those for a month between July and August. That day was particularly hotter than I could remember it had ever been. The weatherman on the radio said the temperature would reach 104°!

Needless to say, it was too hot to do anything outside. But it was also scorching in our apartment. This was 1962, and I would not live in a place with an air conditioner till ten years later. So, my brother and I decided to leave the apartment to go to a cooler place. I suggested the drug store where I could get a soda or any kind of juice. But he reminded me that the shopkeeper in the drug store would not let you sit there all day. My brother instead suggested watching a movie. It was a brilliant plan.

Movie theatres were one of the few places where you could sit in for a long and, more importantly, sit in air conditioning. In those days, you could buy one ticket and sit through both movies of a double feature. Then, the theatre would show the same two movies again after that. If you wanted to, you could sit through them twice. Most people did not do that, but the manager at our theatre, Mr. Bellow, did not mind if you did. That particular day, my brother and I sat through both movies twice, trying to escape the heat. We sat and watched The Music Man, followed by The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance. We'd already seen the second movie once before. It had shown at the theatre since January, because Mr. Bellow loved anything with John Wayne in it. Watching it again was better than going outside, and at least The Music Man was new to us. We left the theatre around 8 PM, just before the evening shows began. We returned the next day and saw the same two movies again, twice more. And we did it the next day too.

Finally, on the fourth day, the heat wave broke. Still, to this day I can sing half the songs in The Music Man and quote half of John Wayne and Jimmy Stewart's dialogue from The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance! Those memories are some of the few I have of the heat wave of 1962.

A- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c, and d:

1- What is the main idea of the 3rd paragraph?

a. Why movie theatres were important during the hot days. b. What kind of movies they watched.
c. The effects of childhood memories. d. The importance of drug stores.

2- The OPPOSITE of the underlined word "scorching" in the 2nd paragraph is:

a- falling b- observing
c- dropping d- freezing

3- The underlined word "it" in the 3rd paragraph refers to:

a. the heat b. the theatre
c. the second movie d. that particular day

4- Why wasn't the idea that the writer first suggested nice?

a. Because the drug store didn't let children enter drug stores.
b. Because there was no air conditioner in the drug store.
c. Because the drug store wouldn't let people stay there for a long time.
d. Because they wanted to watch a movie.

5- All the following statements are TRUE, EXCEPT:

a. They boys watched the movies more than once. b. They didn't want to stay home.
c. The weather was too hot during that day. d. The manager didn't like John Wayne's movies.

a. tell the readers about the importance of going to the cinema.
b. inform us about how movie theatres used to work.
c. tell us about one of his memories during hot days.
d. show us why childhood memories are important.

B. With reference to the passage, answer the following questions:
