VI- Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)

-Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

When Miguel Rodriguez was a young boy in Los Angeles, he was very shy. He had a slight speech impairment and found it difficult to communicate with others. His parents worried about how their son would get along in school. But all that changed one day in the second grade.

Miguel saw some of his classmates playing soccer and decided to join them. "It was like someone flipped a switch," his mother said. Miguel opened up. His speech impairment disappeared, and Miguel became a successful and popular student.

Like Miguel, soccer has changed the lives of many people around the world. Whether giving a shy kid a way to open up to others, or helping homeless kids find a way to get off the streets, soccer has become an international language that speaks louder than words.

One of the reasons that soccer has been able to cross borders so easily is that the rules are the same, no matter where you are. Even if the teams come from all over the globe, they all share common rules and traditions relating to the game. After all, a yellow card means the same thing whether you are from Taiwan, the U.S., Brazil, or Italy. Some other reasons for the universal popularity of soccer may be the fact that its rules are relatively simple compared to many other sports, and because it can be played anywhere from a city park to an international stadium.

Just as Miguel Rodriguez was able to use soccer to communicate with other kids, soccer matches both big and small bring people together from all over the world. The FIFA World Cup, the largest soccer competition in the world, has seen 76 nations compete over its history. It is estimated that almost 3.2 billion people around the world watched at least one minute of the 2010 World Cup. That was approximately 46% of the whole world population which was a record no other sporting competition could even come close to. Moreover, the official attendance for the final world cup match held in 2010 at the Soccer City Stadium in Johannesburg, South Africa between Spain and the Netherlands was about 85.000 people. That was about one-ninth of the world's entire population. With those kinds of numbers, it's no surprise that soccer has become an international language.

A. From a, b, c and d, choose the correct answer: (5 X 10 = 50 Marks)

28. The best title for the passage could be:

- a. FIFA: World Cup 2010

30. The underlined word “they” in the 4th paragraph refers to:

- a. teams
- b. rules
- c. borders
- d. reasons

31. According to the last paragraph, the FIFA World Cup is:

- a. a variety of big and small sports competitions.
- b. the largest soccer competition in the world.
- c. played in Spain and the Netherlands every year.
- d. made up of one-ninth of the world's entire population.

32. According to the passage, all the following statements are TRUE, EXCEPT:

- a. Miguel Rodriguez went to a school in Los Angeles.
- b. Miguel Rodriguez became a successful and popular student.
- c. Teams from 76 nations compete in each World Cup competition.
- d. People around the world share common traditions when playing soccer.

B. With reference to the passage, answer the following questions: (4x15 = 60 Marks)

33. Why did Miguel Rodriguez find it difficult to communicate in school?

/... he was shy.

34. How has soccer changed the lives of many people around the world?

By giving shy kids, Like Miguel, a way to open up to others. / By helping homeless kids find a way to get off the streets.

35. Why has soccer been able to cross borders so easily?

The rules are the same everywhere. / The rules are relatively simple. / It can be played anywhere. / Teams from all over the globe share common rules and traditions

36. How many people attended the final match of the 2010 World Cup?

85.000 people attended the final match of the 2010 World Cup.

Any reasonable answer related to the passage is to be accepted.

VII- (Summary Making) (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Penguins and puffins are two kinds of seabirds. They both are black and white. And they both have webbed feet. Penguins are much larger than puffins in size. Puffins have bright orange beaks and feet. However, penguins' beaks and feet are black. You won't find puffins and penguins living together. Penguins live far south, and puffins live far north. But they both depend on the sea for their food. Both birds have sharp spikes in their mouths. The spikes hold on to the fish they catch. Although penguins and puffins are birds, only puffins can fly. But, both of them use their wings to dive into the sea.

In a paragraph of FOUR sentences ONLY, summarise and paraphrase the above passage in answer to the following question:

What are the differences between penguins and puffins?

The answer should include the following points:

- Penguins are much larger than puffins in size.
- Puffins have bright orange beaks and feet; penguins' beaks and feet are black.
- Penguins live far south, and puffins live far north. / They don't live together.
- Puffins can fly, but penguins can't.
