Part 4 (5 marks)

Once upon a time in a little town, there was a curious kid named Sam. One sunny day, while exploring the woods behind their house, Sam discovered a mysterious, old book hidden beneath some fallen leaves. Excited and a bit nervous, Sam opened it to find a map with a dotted line leading to a hidden cave.

Intrigued, Sam decided to follow the map. The journey was filled with twists and turns, and Sam had to cross a bubbling brook and climb over mossy rocks. Finally, after some adventure, Sam reached the entrance of the cave. Inside, a sparkling crystal glowed softly, revealing a magical world filled with talking animals and friendly creatures.

As Sam explored, they learned that the magic crystal was losing its glow because people in the town had forgotten to take care of nature. Determined to help, Sam rallied the newfound friends and organized a town clean-up day. Everyone worked together, picking up trash, planting trees, and making the town beautiful again.
