- 1- New Zealand, a country in the south-west of the Pacific Ocean, is a long way from any other country and consists of two large islands. The closest country to the west, Australia, is about 2,000 kilometres away. The native people of New Zealand, who were living there before the Europeans arrived, are called Maoris. They arrived in New Zealand from Polynesia over 1 000 years before the Europeans.
- 2- Otherwise, the inhabitants are called New Zealanders, or sometimes 'kiwis'. This is because the national symbol of the country is a large bird called the kiwi. New Zealand is not a crowded country. Its population is only just over 4 million, while Britain, for example, which is about the same size, has a population of over 60 million. An interesting historical fact is that in 1893 it became the first country in the world to give women the right to vote.
- 3- What's more, the islands have an excellent climate for all sorts of outdoor activities, and many people go there to try 'extreme sports' such as bungee jumping. Moreover, many people think that New Zealand's famous national rugby team, the 'All Blacks', is the best in the world. The team gets its name from the fact that it plays in black shirts, shorts and socks.

Reading 1

1 It was very early in the morning, Ben jumped from bed as soon as the first bit of sun peeped through his window. He grabbed his backpack from his closet and opened it on the floor.

2 Ben put in some of his favourite things to take with him on his trip to visit Grandpa. He put in a book on building forts, a book on making go-carts, and a new book he had gotten from the library about a kid detective who creates his own spy gear. He also put in a model car kit and his stuffed bear. He was ready to go!

3 Going to visit his grandfather for a week by himself was always Ben's favourite part of summer holiday. Grandpa would take him fishing and to baseball games. He also taught Ben how to fix things around the house.

4 Last year, when he was eight years old, Ben had learned how to replace a broken doorknob and how to fix a leaky faucet. Grandpa was patient and did not mind taking many hours to show Ben how to use his tools.

5 Ben's mom stuck her head in his bedroom door. "Grandpa's here," she said with a smile.

6 Ben grabbed his backpack and ran quickly into the kitchen where Grandpa was waiting impatiently. "Ready, big guy?" asked Grandpa. "Or do you want to eat breakfast before we leave?"

7 "Ready," said Ben. As he kissed his mother goodbye, he felt his stomach rumble. "We can eat later!"

ORTopic B

Write a story about a dangerous trip you had

It was a beautiful morning last summer and a warm breeze was blowing when my dad and I went sailing. My mum was waving happily. "Be careful," she shouted as the boat moved slowly in the water.

We sailed for an hour before we reached our favorite place. Dad tied the boat to a large rock. We dived into the warm water. Time passed by and suddenly the sky became dark grey and a strong wind started blowing.

We were swimming back to the boat when a large wave hit my dad against a rock. I swam towards him. I was scared, but I had to save my dad. I used the boat's radio to call for help. A boat arrived and took us to the beach where an ambulance was waiting. I was glad that I saved him, but it was the most frightening moment in my life.
