Reading comprehension

Read the following passage, and then answer the questions that follow:

We know that editors have organized newspapers well for readers with the most important stories on page one with big headlines and stories of lesser importance somewhere in the back of the newspapers. That isn't the way that we read them though.

I come to work on a train most mornings, with a lot of other people, all of whom are reading newspapers. We have about an hour, but an editor would be discouraged to see how we go about reading the paper. We don't follow his directions at all. We all look at the headlines quickly- we don't read the front-page stories unless we have time to come back to them later. We go directly to the articles that interest us most. Of course, there are a few people who do it right. They are often the most successful-looking people on the train. They read the important stories first and then go on to the other one.

Other newspaper readers on the train buy a good newspaper, take out their glasses and pencils, and turn immediately to the crossword puzzle. It takes them an hour to finish the puzzle, and I don't think that many of them ever look at anything else in the paper.

The way we read a newspaper is what gives papers their edge over TV. Unlike TV, with newspapers, the reader is in charge. We can read our newspaper frontward or backward. We can skip what bores us and read the parts that we like. We can study the advertisement that interests us and ignore what doesn't.

A) - Choose the best answer from a, b, c and d:

1. The best title of the passage is: .....

|-------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| a. What People Do on Trains   | b. Why Newspapers Are Important       |
| c. How People Read Newspapers | d. How People Solve Crossword Puzzles |

2. The underlined word "ignore" in the last paragraph means: .....

- |            |         |            |         |
|------------|---------|------------|---------|
| a. neglect | b. seek | c. achieve | d. lead |
|------------|---------|------------|---------|

3. The underlined pronoun "them" in the 1st paragraph refers to: .....

- |            |            |              |               |
|------------|------------|--------------|---------------|
| a. editors | b. stories | c. headlines | d. newspapers |
|------------|------------|--------------|---------------|

4. According to the 3rd paragraph, the writer thinks that many of those who do crossword puzzles:

- always read everything else that there in a newspaper.
- rarely read anything else that there in a newspaper.
- are not that smart because they take too long doing puzzles.
- should read a newspaper backward, not frontward.

Reading comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions below:

Every day there is less and less space on Earth for trash to be buried. Yet, every day we make more and more trash and waste that have negative effect on the natural environment. What can we do? We can recycle some of our trash. Recycling means that the trash will be made into something new and useful that can be used again and again.

Recycling helps the Earth in many ways. It saves space in trash dumps where trash is collected to be burnt. Half of everything that we put into dumps could be recycled instead of throwing it. In fact, most things which are made of paper, metal, aluminum, glass and plastic can be recycled. It also reduces pollution.

Paper can be grouped up and made into new paper. Steel and aluminum cans can be melted down and made into new cans. The same is true about glass bottles. This can be done over and over again. Recycling doesn't take as much energy as making these things the first time. So, by recycling we can use less of the Earth's fuel resources. It also helps save our natural resources such as wood and metals.

Plastic can be melted down, too. Then, it can be formed into park benches or furniture. Some people call plastic the wood of the future. Things made of plastic will last about 400 years even when they are outside in harsh weather. No wood can do that.
