GRADE 11 WRITING

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Unit 1

"Laws are like rules that help everyone in a country. They are made to help us know how to act and behave with each other."

1- Importance of law:
- It helps us to live in peace.
- It makes the world a better place to live in.
- It is used to punish criminals.
- It protects our rights.
- It ensures safety and justice.

2- Our life without law:
- We will live in chaos.
- Crimes will spread everywhere.
- We won't feel safe.
- We will hate each other.
- We won't be able to trust other people.

To sum it all up, it is a great idea for everyone to follow the laws of their country. Following the rules helps each person, but it also helps the whole community.

Mrs Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Laws are like rules that help everyone in a country. They are made to help us know how to act and behave with each other. Laws guide our actions and help keep our society working smoothly. Without them, it would be difficult to live together in a big group.

Laws are very important for so many reasons. They help us live together without fighting. They also make the world a much better and safer place. If someone does something wrong, like stealing, the law makes sure they are punished. This helps keep everyone safe. Laws also protect our special rights and make sure everyone is treated with justice.

Imagine if there were no laws at all. It would be a big mess! There would be no rules, and people could do whatever they want. Crimes would happen everywhere, and we would not feel safe at all. People might even start to hate each other because of all the problems. We would not be able to trust anyone, and that would be very sad.

To sum it all up, it is a great idea for everyone to follow the laws of their country. Following the rules helps each person, but it also helps the whole community. When we all follow the laws, we can have a happy and safe place to live and play.

Unit 2

"It's a big adventure for many people and families around the world."

1- The reasons for migration:
- People seek a better life.
- They want to get better jobs.
- They want to enjoy improved health care.
- Some students migrate to complete their studies.
- Others migrate to escape from wars, famine, and natural disasters.

2- The effects of migration on people and countries:
- Migrants face communication problems.
- They feel lonely and homesick.
- Their children will lose their identity.
- Migration causes overpopulation in the host country.
- There will be a lack of skilled people in the home country.

In a nutshell, I personally believe that migration has changed people's lives to the better.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to move far away to a new country? It's a big adventure for many people and families around the world. This extraordinary journey is called migration,

People decide to migrate for many different reasons. Some people want to find a better life for their families. They might be looking for better jobs to earn more money or better healthcare to stay healthy. Other people, like students, move to a new country to finish their studies. Sometimes, people have to move because of sad events like wars, famine, and natural disasters.

When people migrate, it can be a little hard at first. Sometimes they have trouble talking to people because they speak a different language. They might feel lonely and miss their old home and friends. Children who move might learn new things but also feel like they are losing parts of their own culture. Migration can also make a new country very crowded. Additionally, the country they left behind might not have enough skilled people to do important jobs anymore.

In a nutshell, I believe that migration has changed people's lives for the better. Even with some challenges, it often gives people a chance to have a happier and safer future.

Unit 3

"Human values are the good ideas that guide our hearts and help us be kind people."

1- Importance of human values:
- We will live in peace.
- They help us grow and develop.
- We will be able to draw a smile on people's faces.
- Love and happiness will spread everywhere.
- We will be able to create a better future.

2- Ways to help the needy:
- We can donate our money.
- We can donate our time and effort.
- We can provide them with food and water supplies.
- We can help in building schools and hospitals.
- We can launch a humanitarian appeal to encourage people to donate.

To conclude, I believe we should all work together to help people who are struggling. Even small sacrifices can make a big change in someone's life.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Human values are the good ideas that guide our hearts and help us be kind people. It's true that without these important values, people might not be much different than animals. They are like a special compass that helps us make good choices in our lives.

Human values are so important for many reasons. They help us to live together in peace. Values also help us make others smile and feel happy. When we are kind and have good values, we help ourselves grow and become better people. With kindness and happiness, we can create a better future for everyone.

There are many ways to help the needy. We can give some of our money to help them buy things they need. We can also make sure they have enough food and water. It is a great thing to help build schools and hospitals for those who do not have them. We can also donate our time to launch a humanitarian appeal to encourage people to donate.

To conclude, I believe we should all work together to help people who are struggling. Even small sacrifices can make a big change in someone's life. When we all lend a hand, we can put an end to their pain. By working together, we can make the world a much better and happier place for everyone.

Unit 4

"Water has always been one of the most essential needs for the survival of living things since the very beginning."

1- Various uses of water:
- We use water for cooking and drinking.
- We use it for cleaning and washing.
- Water is used to generate electricity.
- Water is important for growing plants.
- It keeps us healthy as 70% of our bodies consists of water.

2-The different ways to reduce water consumption:
- We should take shorter showers.
- We can fix the leaky taps.
- We should turn off the taps if we don't need them.
- We shouldn't wash one item of clothes at a time.
- We shouldn't use a hose to wash our cars or to water the plants.

Finally, I believe that water is a precious gift that we can't live without.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Water has always been one of the most essential needs for the survival of living things since the very beginning. It is a precious gift that helps everything on Earth live and grow. We can't live for very long without this wonderful and important liquid.

We use water in so many ways every single day. We use it for cooking our food and for drinking to stay healthy. We also need water for cleaning and washing our hands and clothes. Moreover, water is used to generate electricity that powers our homes and schools. We shouldn't forget that it is very important for growing plants and all the food we eat. Furthermore, it keeps us healthy because a big part of our bodies is made of water.

There are many easy ways we can all help save water. We should take shorter showers, so we don't use as much. It is a good idea to fix leaky taps so they do not waste any water. We should also remember to turn off the taps when we are brushing our teeth or not using them. Another good way to save it is to wait until we have a full load before washing clothes. Finally, we should not use a hose to wash our cars or water plants.

In the end, I believe that water is a precious gift that we can't live without. It is up to all of us to protect this important resource. By being careful and using water wisely, we can make sure there is enough for everyone for a long, long time.

Unit 4

"Desertification has become one of the greatest environmental challenges facing our planet today."

1- Causes of desertification:
- People cut down trees
- They pollute the atmosphere.
- Farmers overcultivate and overgraze their lands.
- The scarcity of rain can lead to desertification.
- Harsh weather can be a factor in leading to this problem.

2- Ways to solve this problem:
- Governments must put strict laws on farmers.
- We should plant more trees.
- We should raise awareness about the dangers of desertification.
- We should reduce pollution.
- Students should be educated about the dangers of this problem.

To recap, I believe that we all should work hand in hand to put an end to such a serious problem because we need to preserve the earth for the coming generations.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Desertification has become one of the greatest environmental challenges facing our planet today. This is a big problem where land turns into a desert. It makes it hard for plants and animals to live there. We need to understand why this happens and what we can do to help.

One reason is that people cut down too many trees. Factories and cars also pollute the air, which makes the problem worse. Farmers sometimes use their land too much by growing too many crops or letting animals eat all the grass. Not enough rain can also turn land into a desert. Sometimes, very harsh weather also plays a part in this problem.

We can help fix this problem together. We should plant a lot more trees to help the soil stay healthy. It's also important to tell others about the dangers of desertification so they can help too. We must work to reduce pollution to keep our planet safe. Another great idea is to teach students in schools about how to prevent this issue.

To recap, I believe that we all should work hand in hand to put an end to such a previous problem because we need to preserve the earth for the coming generations.

Unit 5

"The world is getting more polluted, so we need to find new ways to keep our earth safe for the future."

1- Things that can be recycled:
- newspapers/ magazines
- plastic bottles of water
- glass objects
- cardboard

2- Importance of recycling:
- It protects our natural resources
- It reduces pollution.
- It saves sea animals.
- It reduces landfill sites.
- It provides more jobs.

In conclusion, I believe that recycling has become a major issue for our world. This is why I think all countries should find even more new ways to recycle.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

The world is getting more polluted, so we need to find new ways to keep our earth safe for the future. That is why recycling has become of great importance these days. It is a simple way for everyone to make a huge difference.

You can recycle many different things from your home. This includes old newspapers and magazines. Plastic bottles that you drink water from can also be recycled. Glass objects and cardboard boxes are also great things to put in your recycling bin. Recycling these items helps keep them from becoming trash.

Recycling is so important for many reasons. It helps protect our natural resources like trees and water. It also helps to reduce pollution in the air and water, which is good for us all. Recycling can even help to save sea animals that might get tangled in trash. It also reduces the amount of garbage that goes into big holes in the ground. In addition to that, the whole process can provide more jobs for young people.

In conclusion, I believe that recycling has become a major issue for our world. This is why I think all countries should find even more new ways to recycle. By working together, we can make sure our planet stays clean and beautiful. Let's all do our best to recycle every day.

Unit 6

"In the recent years, a big number of animals is very likely to become extinct in the near future."

1- Causes of animal extinction:
- People hunt animals illegally.
- They destroy the animal habitat.
- They cut down trees.
- Water pollution can be a great threat to sea animals.
- The natural changes in the climate lead to this problem.

2- How to solve this problem:
- We should raise awareness about the importance of animals.
- Governments should set up natural reservations.
- We should stop illegal hunting.
- We should stick to our religion that urges us to care for animals.
- We should reduce pollution and launch clean up campaigns

To cut the long story short, I believe that animals are an important part of our eco-system so, we should try our best to protect them.

Mrs. Shahinaz Hassan

Topic

Our planet is a home to so many amazing animals. But did you know that some of these incredible creatures are in danger of disappearing forever? This massive problem is called animal extinction.

One big reason animals are disappearing is because people do things that hurt them. Some people illegally hunt animals, which is against the law. Other people destroy the homes where animals live by cutting down trees. Water pollution can also be a great danger to fish and other sea creatures. Even natural changes in the climate can sometimes make it hard for animals to survive.

To help solve this problem, we should all do our part. We can teach others about how important animals are to our world. Governments should create safe places, called natural reservations, where animals can live peacefully. It is also important to stop illegal hunting so animals are not hurt. By keeping our planet clean, we can help protect all the wonderful creatures that live here with us.

To put it simply, I believe that animals are a very important part of our whole ecosystem. They help the planet work the right way and make it more beautiful. That is why we should all try our best to protect them from danger.
