READING COMPREHENSION

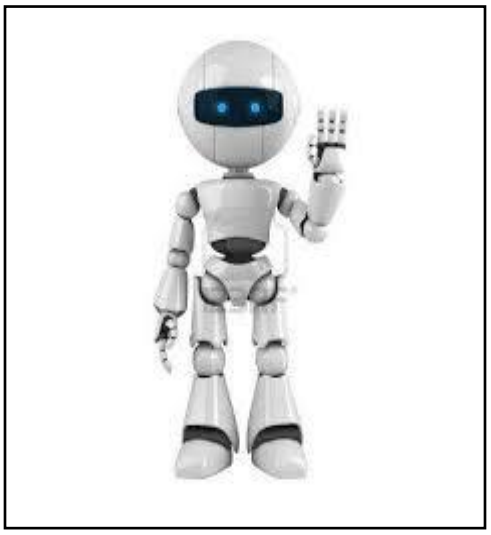

Read the following text carefully then answer the questions below:

Whales are very large animals that live in the ocean. They are mammals, which means they breathe air and give birth to live babies. There are many types of whales. Some are very big, like the blue whale. The blue whale is the largest animal in the world. Other whales are smaller, like the dwarf sperm whale.

Whales can live for a long time. Some whales live more than fifty years. They are very intelligent animals. They can communicate with each other using sounds. Whales make songs that can travel for many kilometres under the water. Scientists think whales use these sounds to find food and talk to each other.

Whales can swim very fast. Some whales travel thousands of kilometres every year. They move from cold water to warm water to give birth. Baby whales are called calves. The mother whale takes care of her calf for many months.

People should protect whales. Humans sometimes hunt whales or make the ocean dirty. Whales are important for the ocean. They help keep it healthy. Seeing a whale in the ocean is a wonderful experience. Whales are amazing and gentle giants of the sea.
