Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions below:

New toys are always nice-looking. As I was shopping, I saw a bright scooter. I couldn't keep my eyes off it. The way it shined in the light kept drawing my eye back to it. My dad noticed that and said, "Sophia, you have a scooter already, a really nice one!" We left the shop, with me taking one last glance back at the new scooter. I knew that mine is still working even though I got it for my birthday 3 years ago. A week later, Dad and I went back to the shop. I kept my eyes open. The scooter was still there but with a big sale sign on it! Dad looked at the price and said, "I know you have been thinking about this scooter a lot, and you haven't asked for much lately. You have been helpful, too. The sale price of the scooter is pretty good, but I can't just buy it for you. What if I pay for part of it, then I borrow the rest of the money?" "No, Dad! Thank you so much indeed, I don't need it anymore", said Sophia.

Reading ComprehensionRead the following passage, then do as required below:

Banks are places where people can keep their money. Most people use banks to save money in their savings accounts and to pay money from their checking accounts. Today, when a person earns money from their job, their salary is often electronically deposited into their saving accounts. Then, he or she can pay their bills by writing cheques from their checking accounts or pay online where their bills are electronically connected to their bank accounts.

Banks also give loans to people. They lend people to buy new houses, cars, or to start businesses. The bank makes money from lending by charging interest. In other words, people have to pay back more than they borrowed. This amount depends on how risky the bank thinks the borrower is and how fast the loan is paid back.
